WHO WE ARE

There is a particular quality to life under Bologna's porticoes. You walk in out of the rain, slow down, and find yourself talking to someone you have never met.

Eurobox ETS is a youth non-profit founded in 2013 with a simple conviction: that Europe is not built in conference rooms, but in the moments when young people from different countries sit at the same table, share their stories, and realise that their fears, hopes and frustrations are not so different after all. We like to think of ourselves as a porch in Europe — a threshold that belongs to everyone, where people meet, set off, and come back changed.

Based in Bologna, we work with young people between 18 and 30 through Erasmus+ youth exchanges, training courses, European Solidarity Corps volunteering, and local participation activities. Our work is glocal by design: we connect the energy of our neighbourhood with the wider European community, in the belief that taking care of your own context and opening up to the world are two sides of the same gesture.

Our values

Human dignity, democracy, equality and solidarity guide everything we do. But if we had to choose the words that feel most ours, they would be these: community, conviviality, and the quiet conviction that staying together is already a political act. We don't want to be one more NGO speaking about European values from above — we want to be the place where you feel welcome, and from there understand that Europe is also you.

Our mission

We create opportunities for young people to encounter one another as equals, exchange ideas that challenge them, gain new skills, and act concretely within their own communities. We focus on the themes at the heart of our work: youth empowerment and participation, democratic values, social justice, environmental sustainability, and innovation in the field of youth work.

WHAT WE DO

Going to Europe — learning mobility (KA1 & ESC)

At its core, Eurobox facilitates learning mobility for young people and youth workers: youth exchanges, training courses and European Solidarity Corps volunteering. Our team holds solid experience in non-formal education, which lets us engage young people meaningfully beyond traditional classrooms — fostering personal growth, intercultural understanding and a real sense of European belonging.

Staying in Bologna — local engagement

We place special emphasis on our local environment, with particular attention to young people facing fewer opportunities. Through events, meetings, debates and youth participation activities, we build an inclusive and welcoming space where personal growth and active citizenship can flourish — because we believe making community is already a form of activism.

Building networks — cooperation (KA2)

Thanks to our international partnerships, Eurobox acts as a link between the European dimension and local communities. This positioning lets us coordinate large transnational cooperation projects on climate, participation and sustainability, connecting local realities to make bigger things happen.

Defending values — participation & rights (KA3)

Our projects promote fundamental European values and human rights. We are committed to giving young people — locally and internationally — the information and the tools to contribute to a more just and tolerant society, with a constant focus on gender equality, democratic participation and environmental justice.
